Notice of resignation — Senior Marketing Manager

NOTICE GIVEN

4 August 2026

NOTICE PERIOD

Three months, per clause 4 of my contract

LAST WORKING DAY

Friday 6 November 2026

Dear Daniel,

I am writing to give formal notice of my resignation from my position as Senior Marketing Manager at Larkfield Consumer Brands Ltd. In accordance with clause 4 of my contract of employment dated 2 September 2019, I am giving three months' notice. My last working day will therefore be Friday 6 November 2026.

I have accepted a role that takes me into brand strategy across a wider portfolio, which is the direction I have wanted to move in for some time. This decision is about that opportunity and nothing else; it has been a genuinely difficult one to make.

HANDOVER

I want the handover to be thorough rather than nominal, and I am happy to shape it around whatever is most useful to you and the team. My proposal is:

OUTSTANDING MATTERS

I have 11 days of accrued and untaken annual leave for the current holiday year and would prefer to take five of them during the notice period, in the week commencing 19 October, leaving the balance to be paid in the final salary run. I hold a company laptop, a mobile handset and a building access card, all of which I will return on my last working day. I confirm that my obligations of confidentiality under clause 12 continue after employment ends and that I will honour them.

THANKS

I would like to thank you personally for seven years that I have valued a great deal. You took a chance on me when I moved across from agency work with no in-house experience, and the trust you extended — particularly during the 2022 rebrand, when very little went to plan — is the reason I have the confidence to take this next step.

My thanks also to the brand team, who are the best group of people I have worked with, and to the wider business for the support I received during a difficult year in 2024. I leave with real affection for Larkfield and I hope our paths cross again.

Yours sincerely,

H. Brück
