REACTIONS RECORDED

- 21 Sep 2021 — Low-grade fever to 38.1 °C for 18 hours after the third hexavalent dose; settled with paracetamol, no medical attention required.
- 11 Apr 2026 — Local tenderness and 3 cm induration at the left deltoid for two days; resolved without treatment.

ADVICE TO THE GUARDIAN

- Keep this card for the child's lifetime; it is required for school entry and for travel visas.
- Wait 15 minutes at the centre after each injection before leaving.
- Paracetamol may be given for fever or soreness; seek advice if fever exceeds 39 °C or lasts beyond 48 hours.
- Report any rash, persistent crying beyond three hours, or a limb that will not be moved.
- Doses given elsewhere should be brought to the centre so the register stays complete.

NOTES

> Doses given at this centre were drawn from stock held within the recommended 2–8 °C cold chain, with continuous logger monitoring; no excursion was recorded during the periods covered. The MMR second dose was brought forward by three weeks at the guardian's request because of planned overseas travel, which remains within the licensed minimum interval. Vitamin A supplementation was given alongside the 15-month visit and is recorded separately in the growth chart.
